Saffron Walden, Cambridge

Saffron Walden is a pretty market town with old buildings, antique shops and a vibrant historic city centre. Very close to Cambridge and London. Many of the historic buildings were built by Quakers, and survive today in this town, largely untouched by industrialisation. There are the remains of a small castle, as well as a variety of museums and historic buildings to visit, all just a short walk from Friends' School.

Friends' School is located approximately 30 minutes from Stansted Airport and only 20 minutes from Cambridge. The school is 1 hour by train / 1 hour 20 minutes by road from London. The town retains a picturesque, rural appearance and has many very old buildings dating from the medieval period onwards.
